Returns and Exchanges

We will make every effort to return your garment to you quickly. Items that are part of a team uniform have the highest priority during race season. Be sure and let us know if this is the case.

There is no charge to make reasonable changes to the size of a garment given the following circumstances:

- Given accurate measurements and details, a JL representative sized the customer.
- Sizing samples were sent, and sizes were chosen based on samples.
- Customer ordered garment based on previously owned JL garment of same type.

Unisuits

Fit is what a JL unisuit is all about. We stand by our custom unisuit sizing, and are happy to make any reasonable change to your unisuit to help it fit you better. We will make alterations at no charge to you when we are responsible for the sizing. Please read the notes below to further understand our changes and alterations policies.

Some changes/alterations will incur a charge.

In the following circumstances, change to a garment size is the responsibility of the customer. All charges are based on work needed, and will be quoted.

- Order was sized by customer without samples.
- Size was requested incorrectly by someone other than the customer
- Customer is using garment that was ordered for someone else
- Team order was placed with "bulk sizing" without specific sizing information sent.
- Customer sent incorrect data
- Customer's weight/size changed significantly since order was placed.

Tech Shirts, Jackets, Trou, Turtleshells - Stock sizes

Unless custom sizing was requested at the time of the order (shorter arms, longer inseam, etc) our garments are made with stock sizing. Requests to alter one of these garments into a custom fit will be quoted and are not considered a rush back. Some changes are not possible - adding length, changing a medium to a large, for example.
